HOW DO WE DO IT?

How—With community input, HOPE Buffalo utilizes a hybrid Collective Impact (CI) framework and a Community Based Participatory Research (CBPR) approach to engage the community from all walks of life to help foster sustainable community transformation at every level.

Early Change—Early changes to the environment that lay the foundation for systems and policy changes, including such things as increasing partnership, collaboration, awareness of the issue among policymakers and the public, increased availability and use of data, community engagement in the issue, expanded coverage in the media or other communications shifts, etc.

Systems Change—Systems changes to core institutions within the HOPE Buffalo collaborative geographic area, including schools, human service systems, local governments, private sector entities, non-profits, community-based organizations, etc.

Population Change—Population changes in the target population of the HOPE Buffalo collaborative, which include specific people with specific needs within specific systems and/or geographic areas.

WHAT IS HOPE BUFFALO?

HOPE Buffalo is an unprecedented collaborative that brings together youth, caring adults, parents, educators, healthcare providers, and faith and community leaders, working together to help our teens grow into the adults they want to be.

OUR MISSION

We believe that teens have the right to grow into the adults they want to be—whatever that means for them. We respect their right to make their own decisions and set their own goals about their health and future. And we will support them with an open door, an open ear, an open mind, and an open heart.

OUR PROMISE

When teens are healthy, they can make informed decisions about their future, which also impacts the vitality of our communities, and the health of our city’s future. HOPE Buffalo is committed to today’s teens and tomorrow’s Buffalo. That’s hope.

STAKEHOLDERS
